Tim Rhoenisch Chief Financial Officer (CFO)

Tim Rhoenisch has been Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and member of the Executive Board of Tele Columbus AG since January 2026. He is an experienced finance and digital manager with proven expertise in corporate management, operational controlling and the transformation of technology-driven business models. After studying business administration at Fontys University of Applied Sciences in Venlo and San Diego State University, he completed a Master of Science in Business & Management at the University of Plymouth, graduating with honours.

He started his career at Gerresheimer, where he held various positions in financial management and most recently served as CFO of a US company. He then moved to Verivox GmbH, initially as CFO and later as Managing Director within the NuCom Group. In 2022, he became CFO of the Commerce & Ventures segment at ProSiebenSat.1 Media SE. From 2023, he was also responsible for the further development of the entire segment as CEO.
